

Assistant Professor of Criminology
Lander University

The Department of Government, Criminology, & Sociology at Lander University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Criminology to begin in August 2024.

Eligible candidates will, at minimum, be ABD in Criminology. We prefer experience in teaching both face-to-face and online courses. The candidate should be committed to teaching excellence, enthusiastic about advising and mentoring students, willing to contribute to collaborative efforts in recruitment, retention, and overall departmental growth, and work effectively with a diverse student population.

Teaching load is 24 hrs. per year plus university service and on-going scholarship. Responsibilities include teaching introductory and upper-level courses in multiple modalities. We are open to areas of specialization.

Lander supports on-going training in teaching excellence for faculty. We seek candidates who will serve our current degree programs and help to develop new courses within the fast-growing Criminology program.

Application: Interested candidates should send a CV/resume; statement of teaching philosophy and experience; statement of professional experience; names and contact info of three references; and unofficial transcripts to:
